STENTOR Index

Volume One

1887-1920

by Stephen K. Vignocchi
Class of 1993

The Stentor (Latin for "Speaker") represents the single most comprehensive record of campus and student life in the Lake Forest College Archives. This newspaper has been published continuously from 1887 through the present day. For this reason, the staff of the Special Collections Department and College Archives of Donnelley Library launched an ongoing project to index the newspaper in 1991. Microfilm copies of the newspaper were also made available to researchers on a self-service basis through the Audio-Visual Department of the Library.

Covering the years when Lake Forest was a university instead of a college, volume one of this index will be particularly helpful to researchers interested in the law, dental, and medical colleges formerly associated with the Lake Forest College. The Lake Forest Academy and Ferry Hall, college preparatory schools for boys and girls, were also included in the jurisdiction of Lake Forest University. The College had a strong religious focus from the time of its founding through the World War One era, and its presidents were Presbyterian ministers as well as educators. The campus was constructed during these years, and the city of Lake Forest grew up around the campus. Lengthy editorials on current events of the day are an especially valuable source for researchers interested in student life and thought.

How to Use the Stentor Index

Welcome to Volume One of the Stentor Index ! The years covered in this index are 1878 to 1920. Topics are listed alphabetically, with a brief phrase in the second column describing what is covered in the article on that specific topic. The third and fourth columns contain the date of the issue and the page number where the article may be found.

The index is not comprehensive. The indexer scanned the newspapers, selecting stories and editorials that contained significant information and/or content. Annual events of an ongoing nature are generally not included. For example, Homecoming occurs every autumn in mid-October. Researchers should not need an index to find stories on this event. Simply consulting October issues of the Stentor should yield information on this topic.

Routine sports events and seasons are also excluded, although extraordinary sports events are covered, i.e. conference titles, accidents, and information about new sports being added to the college line-up.

Many subject headings appear more than once, such as "THEATER" or "FOOTBALL", indicating that there is more than one article on these subjects.

The indexing language of the STENTOR Index is non-standard in that the indexer attempted to describe articles in terms familiar to today's students. Articles on the nineteenth century subject of "courtship" are listed under "DATING." Also, articles may appear more than once in the index under different terms. For example, a single story about a fire in Lois Hall may be listed separately under "FIRES" and "LOIS DURAND HALL." A story about a guest lecturer who spoke about the Soviet Union may be listed under both his or her name and "SOVIET UNION."

If you cannot find the specific topic you are looking for in the index, try another variation of that subject or name. For example, if you are interested in a certain theater production at Lake Forest College, it may not be listed under the play's name. Rather, look under the subject heading of "THEATER" or "PLAYS AT LFC," and you may find it.

We urge users of the STENTOR Index to scan the entire index and become familiar with its content and style before settling down to selecting articles. For more information, contact Robin Leckbee, Special Collections Librarian of the Donnelley Library of Lake Forest College at (708) 234-3100, extension 5058.
